SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

BYBROOK CAPITAL MASTER FUND LP, and BYBROOK CAPITAL HAZELTON MASTER
FUND LP,

Plaintiffs, ~

v.

THE REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA,

Defendant.

15 CV 2369

CIVIL ACTION NO.

COMPLAINT

Plaintiffs Bybrook Capital Master Fund LP (“Bybrook”) and Bybrook Capital Hazelton Master Fund LP (“Hazelton” or collectively, “Plaintiffs”), by their undersigned counsel, as and for their Complaint against Defendant Republic of Argentina (the “Republic”), allege as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is a breach of contract action arising from the Republic’s failure to make contractually-mandated principal and interest payments on certain bonds held by Plaintiffs and issued by the Republic pursuant to a Fiscal Agency Agreement, dated October 19, 1994 (the “1994 FAA”) between the Republic and Bankers Trust Company, as Fiscal Agent. For their relief, Plaintiffs seek payment of the principal amount of the bonds together with any accrued and unpaid interest, as provided for in the 1994 FAA. A true and accurate copy of the 1994 FAA is attached as Exhibit A.

2. This is also a breach of contract action arising from the Republic’s failure to make contractually-mandated principal and interest payments on certain bonds held by Bybrook and issued by the Republic pursuant to a Fiscal Agency Agreement, dated December 10, 1993 (the “1993 FAA”) between the Republic and Bankers Trust Company, as Fiscal Agent. For its relief, Bybrook seeks payment of the principal amount of the bonds together with any accrued and unpaid interest, as provided for in the 1993 FAA. A true and accurate copy of the 1993 FAA is attached as Exhibit B.

3. This action also seeks specific performance of the Republic’s payment obligations pursuant to paragraph 1(c) of the 1994 FAA (the “Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA”), which provides for equal treatment in terms of rank and priority of payment for holders of bonds issued under the 1994 FAA with respect to any unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness as defined in the 1994 FAA. From 2005 to the present, the Republic has engaged in a course of conduct which violates the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA. In particular, under color of Law 26,017 passed in 2005 and Law 26,547 passed in 2009, the Republic issued bonds in its 2005 and 2010 Bond Exchanges with payment obligations that rank higher than those issued under the 1994 FAA and held by Plaintiffs. The bonds issued in the Exchanges are “External Indebtedness” as defined under the 1994 FAA. The Republic’s issuance of these higher ranking bonds, facilitated by Laws 26,017 and 26,547, and its continuing payment of semi-annual interest to the holders of the bonds issued in the 2005 and 2010 Bond Exchanges, while paying nothing to Plaintiffs and other bondholders who did not participate in the Exchanges, violates the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

4. Similarly, this action further seeks specific performance of the Republic’s payment obligations pursuant to Section 15 of the 1993 FAA (the “Equal Treatment Provision of the 1993 FAA”), which acts to confer to the owners of bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA the same terms as bonds issued pursuant to the 1994 FAA. Therefore, owners of bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA are entitled to the protections afforded under the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA, which provides for equal treatment in terms of rank and priority of payment for holders of bonds issued under the 1994 FAA with respect to any External Indebtedness as defined in the 1994 FAA. Furthermore, the 1993 FAA Prospectus dated December 9, 2013 (“1993 FAA Prospectus”) contains a provision at page 56 (“Equal Treatment Provision of the 1993 FAA Prospectus”) that is virtually identical to the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA. A true and accurate copy of the 1993 FAA Prospectus is attached as Exhibit C.

5. From 2005 to the present, the Republic has engaged in a course of conduct which violates the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus. In particular, the Republic issued bonds in its 2005 and 2010 Bond Exchanges with payment obligations that rank higher than those issued under the 1993 FAA and held by Plaintiffs. The bonds issued in the Exchanges are “External Indebtedness” as defined under the 1993 FAA, the 1993 FAA Prospectus and the 1994 FAA. The Republic’s issuance of these higher ranking bonds, facilitated by Laws 26,017 and 26,547, and its continuing payment of semi-annual interest to the holders of the bonds issued in the 2005 and 2010 Bond Exchanges, while paying nothing to Plaintiffs and other bondholders who did not participate in the Exchanges, violates the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA, and, thereby, the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1993 FAA, and the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

The Republic's Default under the 1994 FAA

24. Pursuant to Section 12 of the 1994 FAA, the following, inter alia, are defined as "Events of Default":

(a) Non-Payment: The Republic fails to pay any principal of any of the Securities of such Series when due and payable or fails to pay any interest on any of the Securities of such Series when due and payable and such failure continues of a period of 30 days; or

(d) Moratorium: a moratorium on the payment of principal of, or interest on, the Public External Indebtedness of the Republic shall be declared by the Republic.

25. Section 12 of the 1994 FAA further provides that following either of the foregoing Events of Default, a note holder, i.e., Plaintiffs, may give the Republic written notices and declare “the principal amount of such Securities held by it to be due and payable immediately,” together with all accrued interest.

26. In or about December 2001, the Republic declared a moratorium on the payment of principal and interest with respect to all of its foreign debt, including all payments due on bonds issued pursuant to the 1994 FAA.

27. Since then, the Republic has failed to make payments due on the US040114BE93 Bonds, the US040114FB19 Bonds, the US040114FC91 Bonds, the US040114GA27 Bonds and the US040114GD65 Bonds held by Bybrook, and the US040114AR16 Bonds and the US040114AV28 Bonds held by Plaintiffs.

The Republic’s Default under the 1993 FAA

28. Pursuant to page 7 of Exhibit 1 to the 1993 FAA, Form of Global Bond, the following, inter alia, are defined as “Events of Default”:

(a) the Republic fails to pay any principal of any of the Bonds when due and payable or fails to pay any interest on any of the Bonds when due and payable and such failure continues of a period of 30 days; or

(d) a moratorium on the payment of principal of, or interest on, the Public External Indebtedness of the Republic shall be declared by the Republic.

29. In or about December 2001, the Republic declared a moratorium on the payment of principal and interest with respect to all of its foreign debt, including all payments due on bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA.

30. Since then, the Republic has failed to make payments due on the US040114AH34 Bonds held by Bybrook.

The Republic’s Violation of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA

31. Section 1 of the 1994 FAA contains an Equal Treatment Provision, which states:

(c) The Securities will constitute... direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic and shall at all times rank pari passu and without any preference among themselves. The payment obligations of the Republic under the Securities shall at all times rank at least equally with all of its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness (as defined in this Agreement).

32. The Republic, therefore, may not make any payment of its External Indebtedness without also making a ratable payment at the same time to Plaintiffs.

33. In 2005, the Republic restructured its debt by offering a bond exchange to all holders of non-performing bonds governed by the 1994 FAA (the “2005 Exchange”).

34. The 2005 Prospectus for this Bond Exchange stated:

Existing defaulted bonds eligible for exchange that are not tendered may remain in default indefinitely. . . . The Government has announced that it has no intention of resuming payment on any bonds eligible to participate in [the] exchange offer. . . . that are not tendered or otherwise restructured as part of such transaction. Consequently, if you elect not to tender your bonds in an exchange offer there can be no assurance that you will receive any future payments in respect to your bonds.

35. Holders of approximately 25% of the Republic’s non-performing bonds did not participate in the 2005 Exchange (“Non-tendering Bondholders”).

36. Plaintiffs did not participate in the 2005 Exchange.

37. Bondholders who participated in the 2005 Exchange (“2005 Exchange Bondholders”) received bonds scheduled to pay semi-annual interest.

38. The first interest payment on the 2005 Bonds was due and paid in 2005.

39. The Republic has paid all subsequent interest due on the 2005 Bonds to date and intends to continue to do so.

40. Upon information and belief, the Republic intends to continue paying interest on all 2005 Bonds as it becomes due.

41. To facilitate the 2005 Bond Exchange, the Senate and Chamber of Deputies of the Argentine Nation passed Law 26,017 (“the Lock Law”) on February 9, 2005. A true and correct copy of Law 26,017 and a certified translation are annexed hereto as Exhibit F.

42. In its January 28, 2010 Prospectus, the Republic explained the purpose and effect of the Lock Law as follows:

In an effort to reassure tendering Bondholders and increase the level of participation on the 2005 Debt Exchange, Congress subsequently passed Law 26,017, known as the “Lock Law.” The Lock Law prohibited the Executive Branch from reopening the 2005 Debt Exchange without Congressional approval and also prohibited any type of settlement involving untendered securities that were eligible to participate in the 2005 Debt Exchange

43. The assurances to tendering bondholders provided by Law 26,017 facilitated the Republic’s completion of the 2005 Bond Exchange.

44. Article 1 of Law 26,017 provided that Bonds not tendered in the 2005 Exchange would be subject to the following provisions:

- a. Article 2 – The national Executive Power may not, with respect to the bonds referred to in Article 1 of this law, reopen the swap process established in the aforementioned Decree No. 1735/04.
- b. Article 3 - The national State shall be prohibited from conducting any type of in-court, out-of-court or private settlement with respect to the bonds referred to in Article 1 of this law.
- c. Article 4 - The national Executive Power must – within the framework of the terms of issuance of the respective bonds, and the applicable laws and regulations in the corresponding jurisdictions – order the pertinent administrative acts and fulfill the necessary procedures to remove the bonds referred to in the preceding article from listing on all domestic and foreign securities markets and exchanges.

45. The Republic violated the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA by lowering the rank of its payment obligations under Plaintiffs' bonds below that of other unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness by relegating Plaintiffs' bonds to a non-paying class pursuant to Law 26,017.

46. The Republic's courts have held that the Lock Law and the Republic's Moratorium on payment prevent them from recognizing and enforcing Non-tendering Bondholders' New York judgments.

47. In 2009, in preparation for another bond exchange in 2010, the Senate and Chamber of Deputies of the Argentine Nation passed Law No. 26,547 which, among other things, suspended the Lock Law for purposes of the 2010 Exchange. A true and correct copy of Law 26,547 and a certified translation are annexed hereto as Exhibit G.

48. Law 26,547 provided:

- a. Article 1. The effect of Articles 2, 3, and 4 of Law No. 26,017 is suspended until 31 December 2010 or until the National Executive Branch, through the Ministry of Economy and Public Finance, declares that the process of restructuring the government bonds affected by the referenced regulation is completed, whichever occurs first.
- b. Article 3. The financial terms and conditions that are offered may not be equal to or better than those offered to creditors, in the debt restructuring established by Decree No. 1735/04.
- c. Article 5. ...
It is prohibited to offer the holders of government bonds who may have initiated judicial, administrative, arbitration or any other type of action, more favorable treatment than what is offered to those who have not done so.

49. The prospectus for the Republic's 2010 Exchange stated:

Eligible Securities in default that are not exchanged pursuant to the Invitation may remain in default indefinitely. In light of its financial and legal constraints, Argentina does not expect to resume payments on any eligible Securities in default that remain outstanding following the expiration of the Invitation. Argentina has opposed vigorously, and intends to continue to oppose, attempts by holders who did not participate in its prior exchange offers to collect on its defaulted debt through . . . litigation . . . and other legal proceedings against Argentina. Argentina remains subject to significant legal constraints regarding its defaulted debt.

Consequently, if you elect not to tender your Eligible Securities in default pursuant to the Invitation there can be no assurance that you will receive any future payments or be able to collect through litigation in respect of your Eligible Securities in default.

50. Plaintiffs did not participate in the 2010 Exchange.

51. The Republic violated the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA by relegating Plaintiffs' bonds to a non-paying class pursuant to Law 26,547.

52. The Bonds issued in the 2010 Bond Exchange (the "2010 Bonds") began to pay semi-annual interest to those who participated in the Exchange (the "2010 Exchange Bondholders") in 2010.

53. The Republic pays interest on all 2010 Bonds as it becomes due and intends to continue to do so.

54. Upon information and belief, absent an Order of this Court, the Republic will continue to pay the 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bondholders while paying nothing to Plaintiffs.

55. Plaintiffs and the other Non-tendering Bondholders have been damaged as a result of the Republic's violations and will continue to be damaged by the continuing violations of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

56. NML Capital, Ltd. ("NML") and other pre-judgment holders of defaulted bonds issued pursuant to the 1994 FAA sought specific performance of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA in three pre-judgment cases styled NML Capital, Ltd v. The Republic of Argentina Case Nos. 08 Civ. 6978 (TPG), 09 Civ. 1707 (TPG), 09 Civ. 1708 (TPG) (S.D.N.Y.) (“NML’s pre-judgment actions”).

57. In Orders issued in NML’s three pre-judgment actions, this Court:

- a. held that the Republic’s actions, as described in paragraphs 33 through 55, supra, violated the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA;
- b. granted partial summary judgment to NML on its equal treatment claims;
- c. held that NML had no adequate remedy at law and that, absent equitable relief, NML would suffer irreparable harm;
- d. held that the equities strongly supported injunctive relief;
- e. held that the Republic had the financial wherewithal to meet its payment obligations to NML in those cases; and
- f. issued an Amended Order requiring the Republic to specifically perform its equal treatment obligations by making ratable payment to NML whenever it paid the 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bondholders the amounts due on their bonds. A true and correct copy of this Court’s December 7, 2011, February 23, 2012 and November 21, 2012 Orders are annexed hereto as Exhibits H, I, and J, respectively.

58. On February 23, 2012, this Court issued an injunction to remedy the Republic’s continuing violations of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA, which required the Republic to pay NML ratably whenever it paid the 2005 or 2010 Bondholders pursuant to their bonds.

59. On October 26, 2012 the Second Circuit affirmed this Court’s February 23, 2012 decision, but remanded the injunction for clarification.

60. The Republic petitioned for a Writ of Certiorari on the October 26, 2012 Second Circuit decision in the United States Supreme Court. That petition was denied October 7, 2013.

61. On November 21, 2012, this Court amended the February 23, 2012 injunction.

62. On August 23, 2013, the Second Circuit affirmed this Court's November 21, 2012 decision.

63. The Republic subsequently petitioned for another Writ of Certiorari on the August 23, 2013 Second Circuit decision to the United States Supreme Court, which was also denied on June 16, 2014.

64. In response to the orders of this Court, the Second Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court in NML's pre-judgment cases, the Republic's officials, including President Kirchner, have frequently said that the Republic will never pay NML or any other similar bondholders such as Plaintiffs.

65. The Republic's issuance of the 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bonds, its payment of semi-annual interest to the holders of the bonds issued in the 2005 Bond Exchange and 2010 Bond Exchange, while paying nothing to Plaintiffs and other bondholders who did not participate in the Exchanges, violates the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA. To prevent further violations, Plaintiffs seek specific enforcement of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA, -- the relief previously awarded to NML.

The Republic's Violation of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus

66. Pursuant to Section 15 to the 1993 FAA, Form of Global Bond, contains an Equal Treatment Provision, which states:

The Republic may ... create and issue further bonds ranking pari passu with the Bonds in all respects (or in all respects except for the payment of interest accruing prior to the issue date of such further bonds or except for the first payment of interest following the issue date of such further bonds) and so that such further bonds shall be consolidated and form a single series with the Bonds and shall have the same terms as to status, redemption or otherwise as the Bonds.

67. The bonds issued pursuant to the 1994 FAA represent further bonds created and issued by the Republic such that owners of bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA are entitled to the same terms as the 1994 FAA, including the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

68. As set forth in paragraphs 31 through 32, supra, pursuant to the Equal Protection Provision of the 1994 FAA, the Republic may not make any payment of its External Indebtedness without also making a ratable payment at the same time to Bybrook on bonds issued pursuant to the 1994 FAA.

69. Furthermore, page 56 of the 1993 FAA Prospectus contains an Equal Treatment Provision, which is virtually identical to the language of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA and states:

The Bonds will constitute ... direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic and shall at all times rank pari passu and without any preference among themselves. ... The payment obligations of the Republic under the Bonds shall at all times rank at least equally with all its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness...

70. Therefore, pursuant to the Equal Protection Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus, the Republic may not make any payment of its External Indebtedness without also making a ratable payment at the same time to Bybrook on bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA.

71. As set forth in paragraphs 33 through 55, supra, in 2005, the Republic issued the 2005 Exchange bonds and, in 2010, the Republic issued the 2010 Exchange bonds.

72. Bybrook did not participate in the 2005 Exchange or 2010 Exchange.

73. The 2005 Exchange Bondholders and 2010 Exchange Bondholders have received interest payments.

74. Upon information and belief, the Republic intends to continue paying interest on all 2005 Bonds and 2010 Bonds as they become due.

75. The Republic violated the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus by lowering the rank of its payment obligations under Bybrook's bonds below that of other unsecured and unsubordinated Indebtedness by relegating Bybrook's bonds to a non-paying class pursuant to Law 26,017.

76. The Republic violated the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus by relegating Bybrook's bonds to a non-paying class pursuant to Law 26,547.

77. Upon information and belief, absent an Order of this Court, the Republic will continue to pay the 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bondholders while paying nothing to Bybrook.

78. Bybrook and the other Non-tendering Bondholders have been damaged as a result of the Republic's violations and will continue to be damaged by the continuing violations of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

79. The Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus have the same force and effect as the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA and, therefore, the orders of this Court, the Second Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court in NML's pre-judgment actions regarding the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA should apply equally to bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA.

80. The Republic's issuance of the 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bonds, its payment of semi-annual interest to the holders of the bonds issued in the 2005 Bond Exchange and 2010 Bond Exchange, while paying nothing to Bybrook and other bondholders who did not participate in the Exchanges, violates the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus. To prevent further violations, Bybrook seeks specific enforcement of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(For Specific Enforcement of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA and for Injunctive Relief)

129. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 128 herein.

130. Pursuant to Section 1(c) of the 1994 FAA, the Republic provided that its bonds issued pursuant to the FAA would constitute “direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic and shall at all times rank pari passu and without preference among themselves” and that “[t]he payment obligations of the Republic under the Securities shall at all times rank at least equally with all its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness”

131. The Republic, therefore, may not make any payment on its 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bonds without also making a ratable payment at the same time to Plaintiffs.

132. The Republic has engaged in a course of conduct violative of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

133. Through the passage of Law 26,017, the Republic issued a new series of bonds with payment obligations that rank higher than those held by Plaintiffs and other Non-tendering Bondholders in violation of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

134. Through the passage of Law 26,547, the Republic issued a new series of bonds with payment obligations that rank higher than those held by Plaintiffs and other Non-tendering Bondholders in violation of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

135. The bonds issued in the Exchanges are External Indebtedness.

136. The Republic’s legislative actions forbidding payment on non-tendered bonds violate the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

137. The Republic’s past payment of interest to 2005 Bondholders, while paying nothing to Plaintiffs and other Non-tendering Bondholders, violated the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

138. The Republic’s past payment of interest to 2010 Bondholders, while paying nothing to Plaintiffs and other Non-tendering Bondholders, violated the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

139. The Republic's continuing payments of interest to 2005 Bondholders without ratable payment to Plaintiffs will be a continuing violation of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

140. The Republic's continuing payments of interest to 2010 Bondholders without ratable payment to Plaintiffs will be a continuing violation of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

141. Plaintiffs have suffered irreparable injury from the Republic's violation of the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA and will continue to suffer such injury unless this Court specifically enforces that Provision with a mandatory injunction requiring the Republic to pay Plaintiffs ratably whenever it pays interest to 2005 or 2010 Bondholders.

142. In its December 7, 2011 Order in the NML pre-judgment actions, this Court specifically held that the Republic's Equal Treatment obligations applied to bondholders who have brought actions to recover on their defaulted bonds:

It is DECLARED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that the Republic's payment obligations on the bonds include its payment obligations to bondholders who have brought actions to recover on their defaulted bonds, and on judgments entered pursuant to judicial action brought by bondholders.

Id. at 4 ¶ 3.

143. Therefore, relief identical to that granted in the pre-judgment cases in NML's pre-judgment actions is warranted in Plaintiffs' pre-judgment and summary judgment case.

144. Remedies available at law are inadequate to compensate for such injury.

145. Plaintiffs have performed their part of the contract with the Republic.

146. The Republic is capable of performing its obligations pursuant to the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

147. The balance of the equities tips toward the issuance of an injunction.

148. The public interest would not be disserved by a permanent injunction.

TENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(For Specific Enforcement of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus and for Injunctive Relief)

149. Bybrook repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 148 herein.

150. Pursuant to Section 15 of the 1993 FAA, the Republic provided that it may “create and issue further bonds ranking pari passu with the Bonds in all respects (or in all respects except for the payment of interest accruing prior to the issue date of such further bonds or except for the first payment of interest following the issue date of such further bonds) and so that such further bonds shall be consolidated and form a single series with the Bonds and shall have the same terms as to status, redemption or otherwise as the Bonds.”

151. The bonds issued pursuant to the 1994 FAA represent further bonds created and issued by the Republic such that the owners of bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA are entitled to the same terms as the 1994 FAA, including the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA.

152. Pursuant to Section 1(c) of the 1994 FAA, the Republic provided that its bonds issued pursuant to the FAA would constitute “direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic and shall at all times rank pari passu and without preference among themselves” and that “[t]he payment obligations of the Republic under the Securities shall at all times rank at least equally with all its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness”

153. Similarly, pursuant to page 56 of the 1993 FAA Prospectus, the Republic provided that its bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA would constitute “direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic and shall at all times rank pari passu and without any preference among themselves” and that “[t]he payment obligations of the Republic under the Bonds shall at all times rank at least equally with all its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness...”

154. The Republic, therefore, may not make any payment on its 2005 and 2010 Exchange Bonds without also making a ratable payment at the same time to Bybrook on bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA.

155. The Republic has engaged in a course of conduct violative of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

156. Through the passage of Law 26,017, the Republic issued a new series of bonds with payment obligations that rank higher than those held by Bybrook and other Non-tendering Bondholders in violation of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

157. Through the passage of Law 26,547, the Republic issued a new series of bonds with payment obligations that rank higher than those held by Bybrook and other Non-tendering Bondholders in violation of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

158. The bonds issued in the Exchanges are External Indebtedness.

159. The Republic’s legislative actions forbidding payment on non-tendered bonds violate the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

160. The Republic's past payment of interest to 2005 Bondholders, while paying nothing to Bybrook and other Non-tendering Bondholders, violated the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

161. The Republic's past payment of interest to 2010 Bondholders, while paying nothing to Bybrook and other Non-tendering Bondholders, violated the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

162. The Republic's continuing payments of interest to 2005 Bondholders without ratable payment to Bybrook will be a continuing violation of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

163. The Republic's continuing payments of interest to 2010 Bondholders without ratable payment to Bybrook will be a continuing violation of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

164. Bybrook has suffered irreparable injury from the Republic's violation of the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus and will continue to suffer such injury unless this Court specifically enforces that Provision with a mandatory injunction requiring the Republic to pay Bybrook ratably whenever it pays interest to 2005 or 2010 Bondholders.

165. In its December 7, 2011 Order in the NML pre-judgment actions, this Court specifically held that the Republic's Equal Treatment obligations applied to bondholders who have brought actions to recover on their defaulted bonds:

It is DECLARED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that the Republic's payment obligations on the bonds include its payment obligations to bondholders who have brought actions to recover on their defaulted bonds, and on judgments entered pursuant to judicial action brought by bondholders.

Id. at 4 ¶ 3.

166. The Equal Protection Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus have the same force and effect as the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA and, therefore, the orders of this Court, the Second Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court in NML's pre-judgment actions regarding the Equal Treatment Provision of the 1994 FAA should apply equally to bonds issued pursuant to the 1993 FAA.

167. Therefore, relief identical to that granted in the pre-judgment cases in NML's pre-judgment actions is warranted in Bybrook's pre-judgment and summary judgment case.

168. Remedies available at law are inadequate to compensate for such injury.

169. Bybrook has performed its part of the contract with the Republic.

170. The Republic is capable of performing its obligations pursuant to the Equal Treatment Provisions of the 1993 FAA and the 1993 FAA Prospectus.

171. The balance of the equities tips toward the issuance of an injunction.

172. The public interest would not be disserved by a permanent injunction.
